

NORTH JACKSON - 1918.

During the year diamond drilling was conducted between the North and South Jackson. This work has been reported under the South Jackson.

Old scrap iron, such as broken down cars, skips, buckets, and the like, which had been lying around the surface for years were sold.